

Our Mission

Within 10 years Trinity Center for World Mission (TCWM) plans to support a network of senders and goers who will train and equip disciples in eight countries in East Africa. In response to the Great Commission we seek to establish ten branches of Trinity Biblical Institute (TBI), supported by a radio ministry and headquartered in a facility owned by TCWM, led by a second generation of leaders.

Dr. Pete Anderson, Executive Director

Pastor Anderson, or “Pastor Pete” as he prefers to be called, served 37 years in Hawaii, planting two churches and helping plant two Christian schools. He is a graduate of Westminster Theological Seminary and received his doctorate from the International Graduate School of Theology. Since 1998, Pastor Pete has helped plant 25 churches in Uganda. He also helped found Trinity Center for World Mission (TCWM) in 2012.

This ministry continues to expand with the establishment of Trinity Biblical Institute, church planting, elementary schools, orphanages, a small hospital, and a radio station.

Trinity Center for World Mission

What is Trinity Center for World Mission?

We are a church planting and discipleship ministry seeking to expand the Kingdom of Jesus Christ.

God has enabled us to help plant 25 churches in Uganda. In the next ten years, we plan on planting many additional churches in the countries of East Africa.

We are a missionary organization, training and sending pastors, ruling elders, and mature national workers who will focus on discipleship and planting Reformed churches. We intend to help American churches develop a mission “mindset” through the Kairos course and through participation in our numerous ministries in East Africa. As more people are exposed to world missions, we expect that God will inspire many to give their lives for this work.
